OVERVIEW

Bulletproof a rapidly growing technology focussed cyber security company is looking for a Penetration Testing Team Lead to join the penetration testing team.

Penetration testing is one of the core services offered by Bulletproof to customers around the world, as a trusted partner to many of our customers, our penetration testing team are often seen as an extension of the client's team.

As a team leader you will take management responsibility for a group of up to 6 pen testers, as well as acting as an individual contributor on customer engagements, management responsibilities will include providing day-to-day guidance to more junior colleagues as well as acting as a Subject Matter Expert (SME) in a specific technical area.

As a key member of the penetration testing team, you should have a strong offensive technical skillset and be capable of discovering and exploiting vulnerabilities and misconfigurations ideally in a range of different environments. Whilst a strong technical ability is a must, the ability to communicate issues clearly and concisely for customers is just as important; breaking down potentially complicated technical issues is a crucial skill in order to provide value to clients.

You should apply if you enjoy working in a fast-paced, innovative business with a talented team of motivated pen testers.

This is an opportunity to be part of an exciting and fast-growing security company with a diverse skillset able to deliver many types of testing from 'vanilla' web application & infrastructure testing through to hardware assessments and red team engagements.
